In 2005, Washington ranked 50th in the percentage of state contributions to trial costs for poor people.

State chief justice urges funds for public defense. Ken Armstrong, Seattle Times staff reporter, Seattle Times, 1/19/05, Ken Armstrong

Major improvements have been made. But in 2010, Washington's Office of Public Defense reported that the state's public defense system, "overall is still not at the appropriate level of quality."

Status Report on Public Defense, Washington State Office of Public Defense, 1/2010

Washington Sentencing Guidelines Commission data show that more than a third of Washington's 3-Strikers have no conviction for any crime classified as a Serious Violent Offense.

Persistent Offenders Through June 2008, State of WA, Sentencing Guidelines Commission, 2009
